MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Wacoal Holdings Corp. and Subsidiaries

Years ended March 31, 2008, 2007 and 2006

Financial information contained in this section is based on the consolidated financial statements included in this annual report, which have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States (U.S. GAAP). The Wacoal Group consists of 1 holding company (the Company), 38 consolidated subsidiaries and 8 equity-method affiliates. The Wacoal Group is engaged in the manufacturing, wholesaling, and – for certain products – retailing of women's foundation garments and lingerie, nightwear, children's underwear, outerwear and sportswear, hosiery and other textile products. Other operations include restaurant businesses, cultural and service-related operations, and the construction of interiors for commercial premises.

OVERVIEW

We are the leading designer, manufacturer and marketer of women's intimate apparel in Japan, with the largest share of the Japanese market for foundation garments and lingerie. We also sell our foundation garments and lingerie products in several overseas markets. Sales of foundation garments (primarily brassieres and girdles) and lingerie (primarily slips, bra-slips and women's briefs) accounted for approximately 74.4% of our consolidated net sales for fiscal year 2008. We also design, manufacture and sell nightwear, children's underwear, outerwear, sportswear, hosiery and other apparel and textile products, and engage in several business lines that are ancillary to our core apparel business.

Revenues

We principally generate revenues from sales of innerwear (consisting of foundation garments and lingerie, nightwear and children's underwear); outerwear and sportswear; hosiery, textile products; and other products.

The following table sets forth information with respect to our total sales by category of products for the fiscal years ended March 31, 2008, 2007 and 2006:

In fiscal year 2008, approximately 88% of the sales of Wacoal Corp. (the total sales of which account for approximately 71% of our consolidated sales) were apparel sales made on a wholesale basis to department stores, general merchandise stores and other general retailers, and approximately 10% were apparel sales made through our own specialty retail stores, catalog sales and the Internet. Sales from our other businesses (which include store and home design services, restaurant businesses, cultural products and other services) comprised the remaining 2% of Wacoal Corp.'s sales in fiscal year 2008.

Over the past five fiscal years, fluctuations in our sales have typically reflected changes in unit volume, as average unit prices have generally remained stable during this period.

Share of Net Sales

Cost of Sales

Our cost of sales arises principally from material and manufacturing costs related to the production of our apparel products.

Selling, General And Administrative Expenses

Our selling, general and administrative expenses principally consist of employee compensation and benefit expenses and promotional expenses, such as advertising costs and expenses associated with remodeling our sales counters at department stores. Other selling, general and administrative expenses include shipment costs, payment fees (including outsourcing payments) and rental payments for our specialty retail stores. Our selling, general and administrative expenses do not include any impairment charges on long-lived assets or any gains or losses on the sale or disposal of property, plant and equipment. However, these expenses are included in operating costs and expenses and thus impact our operating income.

KEY INDUSTRY TRENDS

We believe that the following have been key trends in our industry during the last three fiscal years:

- Consumer spending in Japan had been gradually recovering in recent years, but growth appears to have stalled in the second half of fiscal year 2008 following soaring fuel prices and volatility in the stock and currency exchange markets due to the U.S. sub-prime mortgage crisis.
- The number of and sales through department stores, one of our key distribution channels, are decreasing. Although sales at mass-merchandising stores remain constant, they are being forced to review their expansion strategies due to law reforms tightening controls on the development of large-scale stores in the suburbs. At the same time, sales at direct sales outlets and on the Internet are steadily rising.
- Due to the above changes in the retail industry coupled with factors such as a decline in the female population, the market for women's innerwear garments in Japan is shrinking, and the price of innerwear continues to decline in terms of both overall prices and average price per item. The numbers of innerwear items purchased and owned per person are also decreasing.
- In addition, outerwear manufacturers and others continue to enter the market. These manufacturers offer their products by focusing on new elements, such as fashionability, lifestyle and price, rather than function and quality, and have come to be accepted by consumers.

- These manufacturers and other competitors are strengthening their cost reduction by, for example, sourcing fabric and producing garments in China and other lower-cost countries. Sales in Japan of lower priced women's innerwear garments manufactured in these countries has increased, leading to an intensification of price competition in our industry.
- Alternative marketing concepts for women's innerwear garments, such as catalog marketing, direct marketing and e-commerce, are becoming more prevalent as apparel companies seek to diversify their sales channels and reach new customer groups.

We have taken steps to address these key industry trends, in seeking to build on the core strengths of our market position and brand awareness with Japanese consumers. We believe that our strategic emphasis on higher-end products has helped us to reach consumers seeking high quality innerwear garments and to mitigate the adverse impact on sales and margins from lower priced garments. We have taken steps to reduce our cost structure, such as producing more products in lower-cost countries such as China and Vietnam, consolidating and modernizing our product distribution centers and expanding our early retirement program. We are also seeking to expand sales in overseas markets – in particular China, the U.S. and Europe, as well as in the ASEAN region, where we launched our Sora age brand – and increase sales through our own specialty retail stores, our catalog operations and the Internet. Pursuant to our CAP 21 strategic plan, we intend to extend our innerwear product offerings into the mid-price range and include more fashionable offerings in our products mix to help us reach a broader customer base. We believe that our acquisition of Peach John will help us to advance these goals. We will continue to implement these steps and evaluate other strategies to address challenges and opportunities in the industry going forward.

OPERATING RESULTS

Sales

Consolidated net sales decreased approximately 0.4% in fiscal year 2008, from ¥166,410 million in fiscal year 2007 to ¥165,761 million as an aggregate ¥1,397 million decline in sales of hosiery, textiles and from our other businesses were only partially offset by an aggregate ¥748 million increase in sales of innerwear, outerwear and sportswear. Similarly, a ¥2,058 million decline in sales in Japan was only partially offset by an aggregate ¥1,409 million increase in sales in Asia, Europe and the U.S.

Innerwear

Sales of our mainstay innerwear products (consisting of foundation wear, nightwear and children's underwear), which comprised 82.0% of total consolidated sales, increased 0.4% in fiscal year 2008, to ¥136,024 million.

Wacoal Brand

In the spring, the Wacoal brand business department of Wacoal Corporation, which is our core operating company, launched LALAN, our new campaign brassiere, which showed favorable sales performance. LALAN meets the needs of women of all bust sizes due to a unique design that is individually tailored to each size, and we believe that the new-style advertising campaign, which differs from traditional promotions that focus primarily on functionality, has reached new consumers beyond our existing customer base. Additionally, our switch in strategy from seasonal campaigns that promote new products to increasing the number and variety of LALAN series products each season has extended the sales period for our campaign products and resulted in an improvement in sales and stock clearance rates. Fall/winter season sales of Sugoi, our newly developed line of lingerie that utilizes new materials, largely exceeded our expectations. This was due to wide acceptance of the product's characteristics of being thinner, lighter and warmer than past products, as well as extensive media coverage of the product name, which gives the impression of a product that exceeds existing products in terms of image and functionality. On the other hand, sales of products from our Style Science brand category, which was introduced two years ago with new features for the lower body, was well below the sales levels of previous years. Our research shows that this was due to the fact that two years have passed since the release of the original Hip Walker, and in-store promotions have decreased. In addition, there has been a failure to capture new customers, and our attempts to encourage existing customers to buy replacement products have been ineffective. Due to poor sales performance of our Style Science series products, overall sales of our Wacoal brand business department were below the results of the previous fiscal year.

Sales of the Gra-P brand, targeted at middle-age to senior consumers, grew 2.7% to ¥2,592 million compared to fiscal year 2007 thanks to market expansion and the development of new products. However, sales of our high value-added brand La Vie Aisée, which is also targeted at middle-age to senior consumers, were ¥4,494 million, a decrease of 11.2% compared to fiscal year 2007 due to decreased sales of innerwear for the lower half of the body, centered on Style Science series products. Our luxury brand Tréfle, which is primarily sold in department stores, suffered from tough competition, and sales decreased by 9.4% to ¥1,858 million compared to fiscal year 2007.

Wing Brand

In our Wing brand business department, as with our Wacoal brand, our core brassieres, particularly our standard products, performed well, as have girdles, body-suits and lingerie. On the other hand, sales of our Style Up Pants from our Style Science series have declined. Nevertheless, a Style Science product for men, the Cross-Walker, was developed and officially went on sale in department stores under the DAMS brand in February 2008 and in chain stores under the BROS brand name in April 2008. There has been a very favorable consumer response to both products, and we expect this line to expand in the future. As a result, the overall business results in our Wing brand business department achieved a sales level in line with that of the previous fiscal year. With the scheduled introduction of special health checks and guidance aimed at preventing metabolic syndrome in April 2008 as a backdrop, we began selling Exwalker Style Science products at various locations, including gyms and corporate health insurance associations in January of this year. Although sales of our core lines of the Style Science series products aimed at women in fiscal year 2008 were disappointing, we believe that there are still good opportunities to capture new customers and encourage existing customers to continue purchasing these products by expanding our marketing channels and range of target customers and renewing our promotional strategies.

Specialty Retail Business

Our specialty retail store business consists of Une Nana Cool, an independently operated subsidiary, our Wacoal Corporation direct retail store business for our Amphi, SUBITO and Sur La Plage brands, and our Wacoal Factory Stores chain of factory outlet stores. Une Nana Cool's new and existing stores, as well as LumCH, a new type of store concentrating on lingerie, are all performing well and have shown fiscal year profits for the first time. In addition, efforts to limit the opening of new stores and focus on increasing and improving the earnings of existing stores have led to improved results for our direct retail store business as well.

Outerwear and Sportswear

In our outerwear and sportswear business, sales for fiscal year 2008 increased 1.9% to ¥8,920 million as compared to fiscal year 2007. Sales of our main sports conditioning wear product CW-X were lower than in fiscal year 2007 as a result of delivery adjustments for inventory maintenance purposes and product returns from stores.

Hosiery Sales

Hosiery sales decreased 14.2% to ¥1,803 million compared to fiscal year 2007. Although our entry into new businesses contributed positively to hosiery sales, our overall hosiery sales were lower than fiscal year 2007 because of the negative effects of weather on the performance of wet weather footwear and a reduction in department store sales of leggings.

Textile Products

Although sales of shoes and general merchandise were relatively favorable, a ¥167 million year-on-year decrease in the sales of materials to our overseas affiliates, which was due to an increase in materials sought overseas by our affiliates, resulted in an overall decrease in sales of textile products to ¥3,963 million, a decline of ¥88 million, or 2.2%, compared to fiscal year 2007.

Other

Sales from our other businesses (mannequins and fixtures rental, store design and construction, residential interiors, restaurants, culture, services) decreased 6.3% to ¥15,051 million. The mannequin and fixtures rental businesses exceeded sales of the previous year due to an increase in orders. However, sales in our shop and store construction business fell below sales of the previous year because it focused on making profits amid increasingly stiff competition from competitors, including competitive bidding. Our residential design business, which was transferred from Wacoal Corp. to Nanasai Co., Ltd., in fiscal year 2007, was significantly affected by a decrease in the number of new housing starts as a result of revisions to Japan's building standards law, and this resulted in decreased revenues.

Overseas Sales

In Asia, Wacoal's business in China continues to grow. In addition to the expansion of Wacoal brand products, we have begun to expand our youth orientated brand, Amphi, and in the fiscal year ending March 2009, we plan to increase sales through a three-brand structure, including the high value-added brand Salute. Our sales in Asia outside of Japan (including China, Hong Kong and Singapore) grew 13.9% to ¥7,646 million from ¥6,713 million and represented 4.6% of total consolidated sales in fiscal year 2008 versus 4.0% of total consolidated sales in fiscal year 2007. Sales in China grew 42.3% over the previous year, which contributed to our overall strong performance in Asia.

Sales in the U.S. represented 10.5% of our total consolidated sales in fiscal year 2008, compared to 10.2% in 2007. Sales have been increasing in the U.S. over the last few years due to an increasing demand for luxury items and an increase in transactions with mid-level department stores that have not historically sold Wacoal products but that are repositioning themselves as up-scale department stores. However, decreased consumer confidence caused by the U.S. economic slowdown has led to sluggish store sales, and other factors, such as inventory adjustments, have also had an adverse effect, leading to sales levels that were up only slightly in fiscal year 2008 over the previous fiscal year. Earnings were down significantly due to a decrease in profitability, caused primarily by in-store price reductions and increased material shipment costs, and an increase in personnel costs brought on by an increase in the number of sales staff in connection with new store openings.

Our subsidiary Wacoal America, Inc. is currently engaged in sales of foundation garments and lingerie using the Wacoal brand and also the Donna Karan Intimates (DKI) brand and the DKNY brand. However, the licensing agreement for the Donna Karan Intimates (DKI) brand and the DKNY brand is set to expire on December 31, 2008 and will not be renewed. We are planning the launch of a new brand in the U.S. after the expiration of this licensing agreement, however we anticipate that sales in the U.S. will decline in the fiscal year ending March 31, 2009 as a result. We expect that income will also be affected by the decline in sales, however we expect the impact on income to be moderate since the operating margin for our licensing business is lower than our Wacoal Brand business. In addition, we anticipate an overall improvement in profitability in the U.S. in the fiscal year ending March 31, 2010, due to our plans to revive sales with the expansion of the new brand, in combination with decreased costs.

Cost of Sales

Our cost of sales decreased approximately 1.8% from ¥84,658 million in fiscal year 2007 to ¥83,127 million in fiscal year 2008. Cost of sales as a percentage of net sales decreased by 0.8%, from 50.9% in fiscal year 2007 to 50.1% in fiscal year 2008. This was primarily due to product consolidation and a decrease of forward inventory by our subsidiary Wacoal Corp., which resulted in fewer returned goods and fewer losses due to inventory write-downs. Wacoal Corp. also increased overseas production and raw material procurement, resulting in a 1% decrease in the cost ratio of Wacoal Corp.

Selling, general and administrative expenses

Selling, general and administrative expenses were ¥69,245 million in fiscal year 2008, an increase of 0.6% from ¥68,831 million in fiscal year 2007. The selling, general and administrative expenses ratio increased by 0.4% to 41.8% in fiscal year 2008 compared to 41.4% in fiscal year 2007. This increase was primarily due to an increase in personnel expenses resulting from an increase in the number of non-manufacturing employees in Wacoal Corp., Wacoal America, Inc., and Wacoal China Co., Ltd.

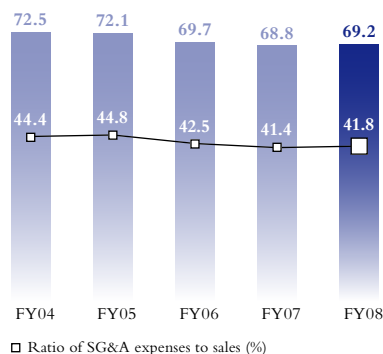

At the operating profit level, although selling, general and administrative expenses increased slightly, the cost reductions were successful and we were able to increase our profits.

Total Other Income, Net

We had a net ¥813 million of other income in fiscal year 2008, as compared to a net ¥1,024 million of other income in fiscal year 2007. This decrease was primarily due to a ¥558 million increase in losses from impairment charges on investments, while profit on the sale or exchange of investment securities increased by ¥309 million compared to fiscal year 2007.

SG&A Expenses

¥ Billion

Net Income

Net income was ¥4,966 million in fiscal year 2008, a decrease of ¥4,063 million compared to fiscal year 2007. This decrease was primarily due to a ¥4,694 million yen write-down of our 49% interest in Peach John Co., Ltd., which we acquired in fiscal year 2007 as part of a capital alliance with Peach John. We acquired the remaining 51% equity interest in Peach John in January 2008 through a share exchange and prepared a new five-year business plan for the business. In connection with preparing the new five-year business plan, we reevaluated the fair value of our initial equity interest in Peach John, and we recognized an impairment because we concluded that there was an other-than-temporary decline in the value of our initial equity interest since a discounted cash flows analysis based on the new five-year business plan did not support the carrying value of the initial interest in Peach John on our balance sheet. The write-down was accounted for as an investment loss under equity in net (loss) income of affiliated companies.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Our main source of liquidity is cash from operations, which allows us to secure working capital, make capital investments and pay dividends without relying on substantial borrowings or other financing from outside of the group. Some of our overseas subsidiaries, however, have credit facilities at financial institutions to secure working capital. The aggregate amount of these credit facilities is ¥16,143, and the outstanding balance drawn from these facilities was ¥5,572 million as of March 31, 2008, including borrowings by Wacoal Service of ¥3,800 million and borrowings by Nanasai of ¥1,600 million.

We are not aware of any restrictions on the transfers of funds from a subsidiary to a parent company in the form of a cash dividend. We believe that our working capital is adequate for our present requirements and for our business operations both in the long- and short-term.

Cash Flows

Net cash from operating activities was ¥14,225 million in fiscal year 2008, an increase of ¥4,886 million compared to fiscal year 2007, primarily due to an adjustment to cash flow for equity in net loss of affiliated companies due to a valuation loss of shares of Peach John of ¥4,694 million, and a decrease in inventory assets as part of an effort to aggregate our inventory and to control forward inventory.

Net cash provided by investing activities was ¥3,590 million in fiscal year 2008 versus net cash used in investing activities of ¥1,185 million in fiscal year 2007. This was primarily due to an increase in cash and cash equivalents of Peach John Co., Ltd., which became a wholly owned subsidiary through a share exchange in fiscal year 2008.

Net cash used in financing activities was ¥9,400 million, primarily due to an approximately ¥6,000 million repurchase of our shares in order to improve the efficiency of our capital and implement a more flexible capital strategy.

Net Cash Provided by Operating Activities

¥ Billion

Capital Expenditures

Capital expenditures for fiscal year 2008 were ¥1,211 million. These expenditures were primarily for the repair of office facilities of our domestic subsidiaries and the expansion of our specialty retail store network.

We expect to spend approximately ¥300 million for further expansion of our specialty retail store network. We also expect to spend approximately ¥1,500 million on system-related investments, including investments aimed at integrating our Wacoal brand and Wing brand manufacturing operations. In addition, we expect to spend approximately ¥1,300 million on the introduction of new business solutions at Peach John to revitalize sales, distribution and accounting systems. We also expect to continue to make expenditures for maintenance, to meet applicable legal requirements and to facilitate the manufacture of new products with new designs and specifications. Furthermore, we intend to evaluate and pursue opportunities for acquisitions, investments and other strategic transactions that we believe will help us achieve our business objectives, including extending our product offerings in Japan and in overseas markets and strengthening our capabilities in the Internet, catalog and other marketing channels. We expect to fund these capital expenditures and other expenditures through our cash from operations, existing cash reserves and other available sources of liquidity.

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT, PATENTS AND LICENSES.

We have been conducting long-term research into the Japanese woman's body since the establishment of our Central Research Center in 1964 (currently, the Human Science Research Center). In order to accurately understand the Japanese woman's physique, we have developed specialized equipment, such as silhouette analysis equipment and three-dimensional measuring equipment, and we are currently developing equipment that we believe will provide advanced measurement of sensory comfort. Our research and development activities are based on the proportional, physiological and mental aspects of garment design. As part of our recent research results, in 1995 we announced the Golden Canon, a set of indicators that characterize the ideal body for Japanese women, and we are also utilizing new sales methods. In 2000, we conducted an analysis on the physiological changes associated with ageing throughout a 25 year period from the teenage years to the 40s. We named the principles of these changes SPIRAL Ageing. From 1995 to 1998, we participated in a project led by the Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry (formerly the Ministry of International Trade and Industry), enriching the basic study of sensory comfort, and conducted research based on reactions to three basic stimuli: pressure, heat and touch. Based on this research, we are focused on developing new products that are not only comfortable for the wearer but have a positive physiological effect. In addition, every year we take the measurements of 500 – 1,000 people and enlist the assistance of approximately 1,000 registered trial-fitting monitors. We scientifically collect and analyze the needs and attitudes towards the human body, and we are committed to understanding the needs of our customers.

Based on these studies, we continually develop products with new functions designed to satisfy the needs of our customers, such as CW-X (sportswear designed to alleviate muscle fatigue), Venus Return (comfort stockings designed to give the right amount of stimulation to the muscles while walking), Shakitto Bra (designed to make the figure look more attractive with the movement of the bone structure of the upper trunk) and our Night Up Bra (designed to provide comfortable support to the bust while sleeping). We have recently been conducting a comprehensive study of walking motion and muscle movement and have developed products that represent a complete departure from conventional girdles and underpants, such as Hip Training Bottoms, and Stomach Training Bottoms. These products stimulate the muscles while walking and work the hip and stomach area, encouraging increased muscle activity. These are currently being sold as our Wacoal brands Hip Walker and Onaka Walker, and our Wing brands Style Up Pants (Onaka) and Style Up Pants (Hip).

From fiscal year 2007, we began research and development into men's innerwear, and we are implementing the measurement of the male body and improving the organization of our monitoring system. In fiscal year 2008, we carried out various trials in relation to Style Science products for men and were able to verify their effectiveness. As a result, we developed our Cross Walker product and began sales in department stores and chain stores. In addition, we developed our Exwalker product as part of the Style Science series and began a new business with sales aimed at health insurance societies and fitness gyms. Overseas, we are promoting research into the Chinese woman's body, focused in the Chinese Human Science Research Centre.

The cost of research and development in fiscal year 2008 was approximately ¥766 million, compared to ¥714 million and ¥638 million in 2007 and 2006, respectively, none of which we consider material.

As mentioned above we do not materially depend on patents or licenses or on new manufacturing processes for our business or profitability.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Wacoal Holdings Corp. and Subsidiaries

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Financial Statements – Wacoal Holdings Corp. (the “Company”) and subsidiaries are predominantly engaged in one industry, the manufacture and sale of apparel, including foundation garments, lingerie, nightwear and outerwear in Japan, the United States of America, Europe and certain Asian countries.

On October 1, 2005, the Company, which was formerly known as “Wacoal Corp.” moved to a holding company structure and changed its name to Wacoal Holdings Corp. The business of the Company was transferred to a new wholly owned subsidiary.

The accompanying consolidated financial statements, stated in Japanese yen, have been prepared on the basis of accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America except for the omission of segment information as required by Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (“SFAS”) No. 131, “Disclosures about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information.”

Consolidation – The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its majority-owned subsidiaries (collectively, the “Companies”). All intercompany transactions and balances are eliminated.

Certain foreign subsidiaries of the Company have a fiscal year ending December 31. The accounts of those subsidiaries are included in the Company’s consolidated financial statements based on the subsidiaries’ fiscal year. As further described in footnote 9 to the financial statements, on January 10, 2008, the Company acquired the remaining 51% interest in a domestic subsidiary with a fiscal year ending February 29, 2008. Prior to January 10, 2008, the Company accounted for its original investment of 49% in this subsidiary using the equity method. As of March 31, 2008, the subsidiary is included in the Company’s consolidated balance sheet based on the subsidiary’s fiscal year end. However, because the subsidiary’s results of operations and change in financial position between January 10, 2008 and March 31, 2008 were not significant, the Company continued to account for its investment using the equity method and the income from the subsidiary’s operations for the fiscal year ended February 29, 2008 was included in equity in net (loss) income of affiliated companies in the consolidated statements of income.

Investments in affiliates where the Company’s ownership is 20% to 50% are accounted for using the equity method.

Significant influence is generally deemed to exist if the Companies have an ownership interest in the voting stock of the investee of between 20% to 50%, although other factors are considered in determining whether the equity method of accounting is appropriate.

Use of Estimates – The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents – Cash and cash equivalents include all time deposits and certificates of deposit (all of which are interest-bearing) with original maturities of three months or less, which can be withdrawn at face value at any time without diminution of principal.

Foreign Currency Translation – Assets and liabilities of international subsidiaries have been translated to Japanese yen at period-end exchange rates and income and expenses have been translated using weighted-average exchange rates for the period. Translation adjustments are included in other comprehensive income, a separate component of shareholders’ equity. Exchange gains and losses resulting from foreign currency transactions and the conversion of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are included in the consolidated statements of income.

Marketable Securities and Investments – The Companies classify their debt and marketable equity securities as available-for-sale and carry them at fair value with a corresponding recognition of unrealized holding gains or losses (net of tax) in other comprehensive income (loss), a separate component of shareholders’ equity, until realized. Equity securities that do not have readily determinable fair values are recorded at cost. Gains and losses on sales of investments are computed based on cost determined using the average cost method.

If a decline in the fair value of marketable securities is determined to be other than temporary, an impairment charge is recorded in the consolidated statements of income. The Companies have generally included that an other-than-temporary impairment is indicated when the decline in fair value below the carrying value continues for over nine consecutive months. The Companies may also consider other factors, including their ability and intent to hold the applicable investment securities until maturity, and the severity of the decline in fair value.

Inventories – Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market, cost being determined on the first-in, first-out method for raw materials and the average cost method for work in process and finished products.

Property, Plant and Equipment – Property, plant and equipment is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation of property, plant and equipment is computed by the declining-balance method, except for buildings acquired on or after April 1, 1998, which are depreciated using the straight-line method, based upon the estimated useful lives of the assets. The estimated useful lives are as follows:

Buildings and building improvements:	5 – 50 years (Mainly 38 years)
Machinery and equipment:	2 – 20 years (Mainly 5 years)

Impairment of Long-lived Assets – The carrying values of long-lived assets, held and used by the Companies, are evaluated for impairment whenever there is an event or change in circumstances that indicates that such assets have been impaired or that the carrying amounts of such assets might not be recoverable.

The Companies recorded ¥33 million ($330 thousand) and ¥614 million in impairment charges on long-lived assets for the years ended March 31, 2008 and 2006, respectively, which resulted from the impairment of primarily land and buildings of a company residence in 2008, and a building which was part of the Companies’ branch office in Nagoya in 2006. In 2008, the Company decided to sell the company residence to an unrelated party. The Company entered into a sales contract on March 31, 2008 and the sales transaction completed in April 2008. Therefore, the Companies recognized an impairment of the asset to be disposed of by sale at the amount of the difference between the sales price and the Company’s book value. In 2006, the Company decided to close its Nagoya office and to demolish the building. The office was closed on March 31, 2006 and the Companies recognized an impairment of the asset to be abandoned. No impairment charges were recorded in the years ended March 31, 2007.

Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets – Goodwill represents the excess of the purchase price over the related underlying tangible and intangible net asset values of business acquired. Annually, or more frequently if conditions indicate an earlier review is necessary, the carrying value of the goodwill of reporting unit is compared to an estimate of its fair value.

Other intangible assets with estimable useful lives consist primarily of customer list and software and are amortized over their estimated useful lives using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives are as follows:

Customer list:	7 years
Software:	5 years

Other intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are evaluated for potential impairment in a manner consistent with goodwill.

Derivatives – Derivative instruments, including certain derivative instruments embedded in other contracts are accounted for in accordance with SFAS No. 133, “Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities,” SFAS No. 138, “Accounting for Certain Derivative Instruments and Certain Hedging Activities” an Amendment of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) Statement No. 133,” and SFAS No. 149, “Amendment of Statement 133 on Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities.” Changes in the fair value of a derivative are recorded in other comprehensive income or in earnings, depending on its intended use. Changes in fair value of foreign currency forward exchange contracts designated as fair value hedges of recognized assets and liabilities and firm commitments are recognized in income. Changes in fair value of forward exchange contracts designated and qualifying as cash flow hedges of recognized assets and liabilities and firm commitments are reported in accumulated other comprehensive income. These amounts are reclassified into income in the same period as the hedged items affect income.

Asset Retirement Obligations – The Companies have obligations arising from contractual commitments to remove leasehold improvements from leased facilities and return the property to a specified condition when the lease terminates. Lease contracts have automatic renewal articles and therefore, the Companies use their best estimate to determine the lease termination dates for the purpose of calculating asset retirement obligations.

Termination and Retirement Plans – Termination and retirement benefits are accounted for in accordance with SFAS No. 158, “Employers’ Accounting for Defined Benefit Pension and Other Postretirement Plans.” Provisions for termination and retirement benefits include those for directors and corporate auditors of the Companies.

As allowed under SFAS No. 88 “Employers’ Accounting for Settlements and Curtailments of Defined Benefit Pension Plans and for Termination Benefits,” the Companies do not recognize a gain or loss on settlement of the pension obligation when the cost of all settlements in a year is less than or equal to the sum of the service cost and interest cost components of net periodic pension cost for the plan for the year.

Leases – Certain noncancelable leases are classified as capital leases and the leased assets included as part of property, plant and equipment. Such leasing arrangements involve the computer aided design system and the computer hardware. Other leases are classified as operating leases and are not capitalized. The payments on such leases are recorded as expense. The rental expense under operating leases is recognized on a straight-line basis.

Treasury Stock – The Companies account for treasury stock under the cost method and include treasury stock as a component of Shareholders’ Equity.

Acquisition – The Company accounts for acquisitions using the purchase method in accordance with SFAS No. 141, “Business Combinations.” The Company allocates the purchase price to the assets acquired and liabilities assumed based on the estimated fair values at the date of acquisition, including intangible assets that can be identified and named. The purchase price in excess of the fair value of the net assets and liability is recorded as goodwill.

Revenue Recognition – The Companies recognize revenue on sales to retailers, mail order catalog sales and internet sales when (1) persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, (2) delivery has occurred resulting in transfer of title and risk of loss, (3) the sales price is fixed or determinable, and (4) collectibility is reasonably assured. The Companies establish allowances for estimated returns based on historical experience. As for consignment sales, the Companies recognize revenue when the products are sold to the ultimate customer. The Companies recognize revenue on direct retailing sales at the Companies’ directly managed retail stores at the point of sale to the customer.

Advertising Expenses – Advertising costs are expensed as incurred. Advertising expenses for the years ended March 31, 2008, 2007 and 2006 were ¥11,768 million ($117,857 thousand), ¥12,084 million and ¥11,888 million, respectively, and have been included in selling, general, and administrative expenses.

Shipping and Handling Costs – Shipping and handling costs for the years ended March 31, 2008, 2007 and 2006 were ¥4,062 million ($40,681 thousand), ¥4,186 million and ¥4,239 million, respectively, and have been included in selling, general, and administrative expenses.

Research and Development Costs – Research and development costs are expensed as incurred. Research and development costs for the years ended March 31, 2008, 2007 and 2006 were ¥766 million ($7,671 thousand), ¥714 million and ¥638 million, respectively, and have been included in selling, general, and administrative expenses.

Income Taxes – The provision for income taxes is determined under the assets and liability method pursuant to SFAS No. 109, “Accounting for Income Taxes.” Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined for temporary differences between the financial statement and tax bases of assets and liabilities at presently enacted tax rates. A valuation allowance is recorded when it is more likely than not that some portion or all of the deferred tax assets will not be realized in the future.

Provisions are made for taxes on undistributed earnings and cumulative translation adjustments of foreign subsidiaries whose earnings are not deemed to be permanently invested.

Reclassifications – Certain reclassifications have been made to the prior years’ financial statements to conform with the current year’s presentation.

To conform to the 2008 presentation, the Companies have reclassified “Other intangible assets,” which had previously been presented as “Other” in other assets, in the consolidated balance sheets. In addition, the Companies have reclassified “Payments to acquire software,” which had previously been presented as “Other” in investing activities, in the consolidated statements of cash flows.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements:

Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes – In June 2006, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No. (“FIN”) 48, “Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes – an interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109,” which clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in tax positions. FIN 48 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2006. See Note 14 for further discussion of the effect of adopting FIN 48 on the consolidated financial statements of the Companies.

Fair Value Measurements – In September 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 157, “Fair Value Measurements.” SFAS No. 157 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value and expands disclosure of fair value measurements. SFAS No. 157 applies under other accounting pronouncements that require or permit fair value measurements and, accordingly, does not require any new fair value measurements. SFAS No. 157 is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. The Companies are currently in the process of assessing the impact the adoption of SFAS No. 157 will have on their consolidated financial position, cash flows or results of operations.

The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities – Including an Amendment of FASB Statement No. 115 – In February 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 159, “The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities – Including an amendment of FASB Statement No. 115.” SFAS No. 159 provides entities the option to report selected financial assets and liabilities at fair value, with changes in fair value recorded in earnings. It also establishes presentation and disclosure requirements designed to facilitate comparisons between companies that choose different measurement attributes for similar types of assets and liabilities. SFAS No. 159 is effective for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007. The Companies are currently in the process of assessing the impact the adoption of SFAS No. 159 will have on their financial position, cash flows or results of operations.

Business Combinations – In December 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 141(R) “Business Combinations” (“SFAS No. 141(R)”), which replaces SFAS No. 141, “Business Combinations.” This statement establishes principles and requirements for how an acquirer recognizes and measures in its financial statements the identifiable assets acquired, the liabilities assumed, any noncontrolling interest in the acquiree and the goodwill acquired. SFAS No. 141(R) also establishes disclosure requirements to enable the evaluation of the nature and financial effects of the business combination. SFAS No. 141(R) is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2008. The Companies will apply SFAS No. 141(R) prospectively to all business combinations subsequent to April 1, 2009.

Noncontrolling Interest in Consolidated Financial Statements – In December 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 160 “Noncontrolling Interests in Consolidated Financial Statements, an Amendment of Accounting Research Bulletin No. 51” (“SFAS No. 160”). This statement establishes accounting and reporting standards for ownership interests in subsidiaries held by parties other than the parent, the amount of consolidated net income attributable to the parent and to the noncontrolling interest, changes in a parent’s ownership interest, and the valuation of retained noncontrolling equity investments when a subsidiary is deconsolidated. SFAS No. 160 also establishes disclosure requirements that clearly identify and distinguish between the interests of the parent and the interests of the noncontrolling owners. SFAS No. 160 is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2008. The Companies are currently evaluating the potential impact, if any, of the adoption of SFAS No. 160 on its financial position, results of operations or cash flows.

Disclosure about Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities – In March 2008, the FASB issued FASB Statement No. 161, “Disclosures about Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities.” The new standard is intended to improve financial reporting about derivative instruments and hedging activities by requiring enhanced disclosures to enable investors to better understand their effects on an entity’s financial position, financial performance, and cash flows. It is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years and interim periods beginning after November 15, 2008, with early application encouraged. The Companies are currently evaluating the potential impact, if any, of the adoption of SFAS No. 161 on our financial statements.

2. TRANSLATION INTO U.S. DOLLAR STATEMENTS

The financial statements are stated in Japanese yen, the currency of the country in which the Company is incorporated and operates. The translations of Japanese yen amounts into U.S. dollar amounts are included solely for convenience of readers outside of Japan and have been made at the rate of ¥99.85 to $1, the noon buying rate for yen in New York City at March 31, 2008. Such translations should not be construed as representations that the Japanese yen amounts could be converted into U.S. dollars at the above or any other rate.

3. MARKETABLE SECURITIES AND INVESTMENTS

The fair value of debt and marketable equity securities is based on quoted market prices at March 31, 2008 and 2007. The fair values of the debt and marketable equity securities were as follows:

2008	Millions of Yen
	Cost	Gross Unrealized Gain	Gross Unrealized Loss	Fair Value

There were no securities which had been in a continuous unrealized loss position for more than 12 months at March 31, 2008 and 2007. Gross unrealized holding losses and fair values of debt and marketable equity securities, all of which have been in a continuous unrealized loss position for less than 12 months at March 31, 2008 and 2007, were as follows:

2008	Millions of Yen		Thousands of U.S. Dollars
	Fair Value	Gross Unrealized Loss	Fair Value	Gross Unrealized Loss
Current:
Corporate debt securities	¥3,675	¥ 127	$36,805	$ 1,272

The unrealized losses on investments were caused primarily by a general decline in stock prices in Japan as of the end of the fiscal year. The Companies have generally concluded that an other than temporary impairment is indicated when there is a decline in fair value below the carrying value for over nine consecutive months as described in Note 1. No investments were identified that meet the Companies' criterion for recognition of an impairment loss on investments in unrealized loss position presented above. Therefore, the Companies do not believe the unrealized losses represent an other-than-temporary impairment as of March 31, 2008 and 2007.

Future maturities of debt securities and mutual fund classified as available-for-sale at March 31, 2008 were as follows:

	Millions of Yen		Thousands of U.S. Dollars
	Cost	Fair Value	Cost	Fair Value
Due within one year	¥ 2,593	¥ 2,595	$ 25,969	$ 25,989
Due after one year through five years	6,543	6,544	65,528	65,538
Due after five years through ten years	1,323	1,305	13,250	13,070

Total	¥12,186	¥12,048	$122,043	$120,661

Proceeds from sales of available-for-sale securities were ¥2,136 million ($21,392 thousand), ¥2,573 million and ¥2,903 million for the years ended March 31, 2008, 2007 and 2006, respectively. The gross realized gains on the sales of available-for-sale securities for the years ended March 31, 2008, 2007 and 2006 were ¥557 million ($5,578 thousand), ¥408 million and ¥510 million, respectively. The gross realized losses on the sales of available-for-sale securities for the year ended March 31, 2007 were ¥2 million. No realized losses were recorded in 2008 and 2006.

During the years ended March 31, 2008 and 2006, the Companies exchanged certain equity securities for other securities. The Companies recorded the newly received securities at fair value and recognized a gain of ¥95 million ($951 thousand) and ¥1,149 million in the year ended March 31, 2008 and 2006. No such exchanges were made in the year ended March 31, 2007.

The Companies recognized impairment charges on investments of ¥923 million ($9,244 thousand), ¥365 million and ¥65 million in the years ended March 31, 2008, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

Investments in non-marketable equity securities for which there is no readily determinable fair value were accounted for using the cost method and aggregated ¥1,019 million ($10,205 thousand) and ¥945 million at March 31, 2008 and 2007, respectively. The Companies write down these investments whenever the recorded value exceeds the Companies' share of net assets of the investees. These investments were not evaluated for further impairment as the Companies did not identify any events or changes in circumstances that might have a significant adverse effect on the carrying value of the investments. It is not practicable to estimate the fair value of the investments.

The Company's subsidiary in the United States of America adopted a non-qualified deferred compensation plan and trust agreement. Investments consist of several mutual funds, which are recorded at the fair market value of ¥56 million ($561 thousand) and ¥53 million as of March 31, 2008 and 2007, respectively.

4. VALUATION AND QUALIFYING ACCOUNTS

Information related to the Companies' allowance for doubtful receivables was as follows:

6. INVESTMENTS IN AFFILIATES

Investments are accounted for using the equity method of accounting if the investment provides the Companies the ability to exercise significant influence, but not control, over an investee. Significant influence is generally deemed to exist if the Companies have an ownership interest in the voting stock of the investee of between 20% to 50%, although other factors are considered in determining whether the equity method of accounting is appropriate. The Companies record investments in equity method investees meeting these characteristics as

"Investments in affiliates." Under the equity method, the Companies record their proportionate share of an affiliate's income or loss based on the most recently available financial statements.

The difference between the amount at which an investment is carried and the amount of underlying equity in net assets consists of goodwill and other intangible assets. Intangible assets with estimable useful lives are amortized over such useful lives.

The Companies' investments in affiliated companies and percentage of ownership at March 31, 2008 and 2007 include, among others, the following companies:

Name of Investee	Percentage of Ownership (%)	2008

Dividends received from the affiliated companies were ¥806 million ($8,072 thousand), ¥607 million and ¥448 million during the years ended March 31, 2008, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

Acquisition of PJ – On June 2, 2006, the Company acquired 49% of the issued common shares of PJ, at the amount of ¥15,327 million and paid in cash. The Company accounted for this investment using the equity method for the year ended March 31, 2007, and recorded ¥358 million of equity net income for the year ended March 31, 2007. The amount recorded as investment in affiliated companies as of March 31, 2007 included goodwill of ¥6,297 million and intangible assets of ¥6,521 million, if consolidated.

During the year ended March 31, 2008, the Company identified a decline in fair value of PJ's shares and recognized an impairment loss of ¥4,694 million ($47,011 thousand), which was included in equity in net loss of affiliated companies.

On January 10, 2008, the Company acquired remaining 51% common shares of PJ, and made it a wholly owned subsidiary. The Company consolidated the balance sheet of PJ as of February 29, 2008 which was the most recent fiscal year end of PJ subsequent to the acquisition date. Income from PJ's operation for the period from March 1, 2007 to February 29, 2008 was accounted for under equity method and included in equity in net loss of affiliated companies in the consolidated statements of income. As such, balance sheet information of PJ is include in the table above as of March 31, 2007, but nor as of March 31, 2008. Also the income statement information of PJ for the years ended March 31, 2007 and 2008 is included in the table above.

7. SHORT-TERM BANK LOANS AND LEASE OBLIGATIONS

The future minimum payments required at March 31, 2008 were as follows:

Year Ending March 31	Millions of Yen	Thousands of
		U.S. Dollars
2009	¥ 48	$ 481
2010	81	811
Total	¥129	$1,292

In 2008 and 2007, no assets were pledged as collateral.

9. ACQUISITION

On January 10, 2008, the Company acquired the remaining 51% of the outstanding common shares of PJ, primarily a mail-order innerwear retailer, through share exchange. Until then, the Company had held a 49% of the issued common shares since the initial acquisition on June 2, 2006. This acquisition enables the Company to expand its innerwear operations' market area by including customer age groups and product styles that it has not been able to develop fully.

This transaction was accounted for as a purchase. PJ is included in the Company's consolidated balance sheet as of March 31, 2008 based on PJ's fiscal year end, which is February 29, 2008. However, because PJ's results of operations and change in financial position between January 10, 2008 and March 31, 2008 were not significant, the Company continued to account for its investment using the equity method and the income from PJ's operations for the fiscal year ended February 29, 2008 was included in equity in net (loss) income of affiliated companies in the consolidated statements of income.

The purchase cost of the additional shares was ¥9,266 million ($92,799 thousand), which consisted of the fair value of the shares distributed to the shareholder of PJ and the direct costs of the business combination. As consideration for the acquisition, the Company distributed 3,261,400 new shares and 3,440,000 shares of treasury stock to the shareholder of PJ. Those shares were valued at ¥1,372 per share which is the five-day average stock price before the acquisition announcement on November 9, 2007.

The purchase price of additional PJ shares has been allocated based upon the estimated fair value of the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. The Company's new basis of investments in PJ was ¥21,814 million ($218,468 thousand), including the initial investment of ¥10,670 million for the 49% shares and the corresponding amount of deferred tax liability of ¥1,878 million for the outside basis temporary differences, which the Company recognized on investment in PJ upon the acquisition.

As a result of the allocation of new basis of investment in PJ, the Company recognized goodwill of ¥11,203 million ($112,198 thousand) and intangible assets of ¥8,677 million ($86,900 thousand), in aggregate, which were classified as goodwill and other intangible assets in the consolidated balance sheets. Intangible assets consist of trademark of ¥5,316 million ($53,240 thousand) and customer list of ¥3,361 million ($33,660 thousand). The trademark is not subject to amortization and the customer list is subject to amortization over estimated useful life of 7 years. Goodwill is not deductible for tax purpose.

The following table summarizes the estimated fair values of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed at the date of acquisition.

11. TERMINATION AND RETIREMENT PLANS

Employee Retirement Plans – The Companies sponsor termination and retirement benefit plans that cover substantially all employees. Benefits are based on the employee's years of service, position and performance. If the termination is involuntary or caused by death, the employee is usually entitled to greater payments than in the case of voluntary termination.

The Companies have a contributory defined retirement benefit plan, several partially funded plans administered by independent trustees and several unfunded termination plans administered by the Companies. Benefits under the contributory defined retirement benefit plan are usually paid in a lump sum at the earlier of termination or retirement, although periodic payments are available under certain conditions. Benefits under the other termination and retirement benefit plan are paid either as a lump-sum payments or a periodic payments under certain conditions. The benefits are usually paid as a lump-sum payment, if the employee resigns before the mandatory retirement age.

On March 31, 2007, the Companies adopted the recognition and disclosure provision of SFAS No. 158, "Employers Accounting for Deferred Benefit Pension and Other Postretirement Plans, an amendment of FASB Statements No. 87, 88, 106, and 132(R)." SFAS No. 158 required the Companies to recognize the funded status of their pension plans in the March 31, 2007 consolidated balance sheet, with a corresponding adjustment to accumulated other comprehensive income. The adjustment to accumulated other comprehensive income at adoption consisted of the unrecognized actuarial gain and the unrecognized prior service benefit, all of which were previously netted against the plans' funded status in the consolidated balance sheet pursuant to the provisions of SFAS No. 87. Upon adoption, the Companies recorded a net-of-tax amount of ¥4,130 million to the ending balance of accumulated other comprehensive income. The adoption of SFAS No. 158 had no effect on the consolidated statements of income for the year ended March 31, 2007, or for any prior period presented.

The changes in the carrying amount of goodwill for the year ended March 31, 2008, were as follows:

	Millions of Yen	Thousands of U.S. Dollars

The unrecognized net actuarial loss and prior service benefit are being amortized over 12 years (the average remaining service life of active participants) using the declining-balance method and the straight-line method, respectively.

Other changes in plan assets and benefit obligations recognized in other comprehensive income for the year ended March 31, 2008 were as follows:

	Millions of Yen	Thousands of U.S. Dollars
Current year actuarial loss	¥(5,328)	$(53,360)
Amortization of actuarial gain	(79)	(791)
Amortization of prior service benefit	(691)	(6,920)
	¥(6,098)	$(61,071)

The estimated amounts that will be amortized from accumulated other comprehensive income into net periodic benefit cost over the next year are summarized as follows:

	2008	2008	2008
Actuarial gain	¥ 823	$ 8,242
Prior service benefit	(691)	(6,920)

The Companies use a March 31 measurement date for the majority of its plans. The weighted-average assumptions used as of March 31, in computing the benefit obligation liabilities shown above were as follows:

	2008	2007
Discount rate	2.5%	2.5%
Rate of increase in future compensation	0.0%	0.5%

The weighted-average assumptions used as of March 31, in computing the net periodic benefit cost shown above were as follows:

	2008	2007	2006
Discount rate	2.5%	2.5%	2.5%
Expected long-term rate of return on plan assets	2.5%	2.5%	2.5%
Rate of increase in future compensation	0.5%	0.5%	0.5%

The Company's wholly owned subsidiary, Wacoal Corp.'s approach to establishing the discount rate is based upon long term Japanese government bond rates and corporate bond indices. The discount rate assumption is based upon the five-year average of the effective yields on the 20-year Japanese government bond, adjusted for an incremental yield of approximately 25 basis points that is achieved by selecting corporate bonds whose credit characteristics satisfy the quality requirements but whose yields are slightly higher than the yields on Japanese government bonds. For other plans, similar indices and methods are used.

The expected long-term rate of return on plan assets is derived proportionally from return assumptions determined for each of the major asset classes. The return expectations for each of the asset classes are based largely on assumptions about economic growth and inflation, which are supported by long-term historical data. The estimated long-term rate of return is based on an asset allocation of equity securities of 36.0%, debt securities of 52.0%, and other investments of 12.0%.

The Companies' investment strategy is to maintain actual asset weightings within a preset range of target allocations. The Companies' investments are broadly diversified, typically consisting primarily of equity and debt securities. The Companies believe these ranges represent an appropriate risk profile for the planned benefit payments of the plans based on the timing of the estimated benefit payment.

The asset allocation at March 31, 2008 and 2007 was as follows:

	2008	2007
Equity securities	45.4%	54.8%
Debt securities	44.4%	34.9%
Life insurance company general accounts	8.4%	5.7%
Cash and cash equivalents	1.8%	4.6%

The target allocation percentages are reviewed and approved by the Pension Committee. The actual allocations for 2008 and 2007 are different from the target allocation percentages primarily because the Company maintained additional equity securities as the separate plan asset which was contributed to the plan based on an agreement between the Company and employees and are not governed by the Pension Committee. As such, the actual allocation percentage of equity securities to the total plan assets is higher than the target allocation, and similarly, the actual allocation for the debt securities and other types of assets are lower than the target allocation.

The general funding policy of the funded plans is to contribute amounts computed in accordance with actuarial methods accepted by Japanese tax law. The Companies expect to contribute ¥2,331 million ($23,345 thousand) to their plans in the year ending March 31, 2009.

The following benefit payments, which reflect expected future service, as appropriate, are expected to be paid as follows:

Year Ending March 31	Millions of Yen	Thousands of U.S. Dollars
2009	¥1,109	$11,107
2010	1,158	11,597
2011	1,249	12,509
2012	1,365	13,671
2013	1,537	15,393
2014–2018	9,203	92,168

Employee Early Retirement Program – The Companies provide additional benefits to employees that elect to participate in the Companies' early retirement program. Retirement benefits of ¥51 million ($511 thousand), ¥14 million and ¥364 million were paid in addition to normal benefits and charged to selling, general and administrative for the years ended March 31, 2008, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

Special Termination Benefit – In November 2005, the Company announced a special voluntary retirement plan to eliminate approximately 300 positions to improve the labor structure at March 31, 2006. Employees who would be more than 50 years-old at March 31, 2006 could apply to this program. As of March 31, 2006, the Company had eliminated 362 positions and paid the special termination benefit of ¥6,931 million.

In March 2006, Fukushima Wacoal Sewing Corp., a subsidiary of the Companies, terminated its operations and paid an aggregate ¥590 million in special termination benefits to its employees. Those payments were also charged to special retirement related expenses. In addition to those charges, a gain on settlement of ¥256 million was credited to selling, general and administrative.

Termination Plan for Directors and Corporate Auditors – The Company and certain subsidiaries had termination plans for directors and corporate auditors. Payment of termination benefits to directors and corporate auditors is made in a lump sum upon termination and requires the approval of the shareholders before payment. In June 2005, the Company rescinded its termination plan for directors and corporate auditors upon the approval of its shareholders. The amount of benefit for each individual was fixed as of June 29, 2005 and will remain frozen until the retirement of each respective director and corporate auditor. The outstanding liabilities at March 31, 2008 and 2007 were ¥368 million ($3,686 thousand) and ¥373 million, respectively, and were recorded in other long-term liabilities. Subsidiaries still maintain plans for their directors and corporate auditors. In accordance with EITF 88-1, the subsidiaries recorded a liability for termination benefits for directors and corporate auditors at the amount that would be needed if all directors and corporate auditors were to resign at each balance sheet date. The liabilities for termination benefits for directors and corporate auditors at March 31, 2008 and 2007 were ¥90 million ($901 thousand) and ¥85 million, respectively, and were included in liability for termination and retirement benefits.

12. SHAREHOLDERS' EQUITY

Since May 1, 2006, Japanese companies have been subject to the Corporate Law of Japan (the "Corporate Law"), which reformed and replaced the Commercial Code of Japan. The significant provisions in the Corporate Law that affect financial and accounting matters are summarized below:

(a) Dividends

Under the Corporate Law, companies can pay dividends at any time during the fiscal year in addition to the year-end dividend upon resolution at the shareholders meeting. For companies that meet certain criteria such as; (1) having the Board of Directors, (2) having independent auditors, (3) having the Board of Corporate Auditors, and (4) the term of service of the directors is prescribed as one year rather than two years of normal term by its articles of incorporation, the Board of Directors may declare dividends (except for dividends in kind) at any time during the fiscal year if the company has prescribed so in its articles of incorporation. The Company meets all the above criteria. The Board of Directors of companies with board committees (an appointment committee, compensation committee and audit committee) can also do so because such companies with board committees already, by nature, meet the above criteria under the Corporate Law, even though such companies have an audit committee instead of the Board of Corporate Auditors.

The Corporate Law permits companies to distribute dividends-in-kind (non-cash assets) to shareholders subject to a certain limitation and additional requirements.

Semiannual interim dividends may also be paid once a year upon resolution by the Board of Directors if the articles of incorporation of the company so stipulate. The Corporate Law provides certain limitations on the amounts available for dividends or the purchase of treasury stock. The limitation is defined as the amount available for distribution to the shareholders, but the amount of net assets after dividends must be maintained at no less than ¥3 million.

The amount of retained earnings available for dividends under the Corporate Law was ¥101,694 million ($1,018,468 thousand) as of March 31, 2008, based on the amount recorded in the parent company's general books of account.

(b) Increases/decreases and transfer of common stock, reserve and-surplus

The Corporate Law requires that an amount equal to 10% of dividends must be appropriated as a legal reserve (a component of retained earnings) or as additional paid-in capital (a component of capital surplus) depending on the equity account charged upon the payment of such dividends until the total of aggregate amount of legal reserve and additional paid-in capital equals 25% of the common stock. Under the Corporate Law, the total amount of additional paid-in capital and legal reserve may be reversed without limitation. The Corporate Law also provides that common stock, legal reserve, additional paid-in capital, other capital surplus and retained earnings can be transferred among the accounts under certain conditions upon resolution of the shareholders.

(c) Treasury stock and treasury stock acquisition rights

The Corporate Law also provides for companies to purchase treasury stock and dispose of such treasury stock by resolution of the Board of Directors. The amount of treasury stock purchased cannot exceed the amount available for distribution to the shareholders which is determined by specific formula. Under the Corporate Law, stock acquisition rights, which were previously presented as a liability, are now presented as a separate component of equity. The Corporate Law also provides that companies can purchase both treasury stock acquisition rights and treasury stock. Such treasury stock acquisition rights are presented as a separate component of equity or deducted directly from stock acquisition rights.

A valuation allowance was recorded against the deferred tax assets, primarily related to loss carryforwards of certain domestic and foreign subsidiaries. The valuation allowance decreased by ¥47 million ($471 thousand) for the year ended March 31, 2008 and decreased by ¥186 million for the year ended March 31, 2007.

At March 31, 2008, certain subsidiaries had loss carryforwards which are available to offset future taxable income of such subsidiaries expiring as follows:

Year Carryforward Expires	Millions of Yen	Thousands of U.S. Dollars
2009	¥ 84	$ 841
2010	821	8,222
2011	934	9,354

Total	¥5,397	$54,051

The portion of the undistributed earnings of foreign subsidiaries which are deemed to be permanently invested amounted to ¥5,239 million ($52,469 thousand) and ¥3,556 million at March 31, 2008 and 2007, respectively. It is not practicable to determine the unrecognized deferred tax liability on these earnings.

15. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Companies purchase merchandise from numerous suppliers throughout the world, including certain affiliates of the Companies. The Companies purchased merchandise from affiliates in the amount of ¥1,031 million ($10,325 thousand), ¥1,588 million, and ¥1,811 million in the fiscal years ended March 31, 2008, 2007 and 2006. The accounts payable to affiliates were ¥48 million ($481 thousand) and ¥9 million at March 31, 2008 and 2007, respectively.

16. EARNINGS PER SHARE AND AMERICAN DEPOSITARY RECEIPT

The Company accounts for its earnings per share in accordance with SFAS No. 128, "Earnings per Share." Basic net income per share has been computed by dividing net income available to common shareholders by the weighted-average number of common shares outstanding during each year. Fully diluted income per share is not computed as there are no common stock equivalents.

17. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AND CONCENTRATION OF CREDIT RISK

Fair Value of Financial Instruments – The carrying amount of cash and cash equivalents and short-term bank loans approximates fair value because of the short maturities of these instruments. The fair values of current and noncurrent marketable securities, as presented in Note 3, are primarily estimated based on quoted market prices for these securities. However, the fair values of investments in non-marketable equity securities are impracticable to estimate as the investments represent stocks of companies which are not publicly traded.

The fair value of long-term debt, including current portion, consists of lease obligation, and there is no long-term debt which is required to disclose its fair value at March 31, 2008 and 2007.

Fair value estimates are made at a specific point in time, based on relevant market information and information about the financial instrument. These estimates are subjective in nature and involve uncertainties and matters of significant judgment and therefore cannot be determined with precision.

Forward Currency Exchange Contracts – The Company occasionally uses forward currency exchange contracts to manage its

18. SUBSEQUENT EVENT

On May 29, 2008, the Board of Directors resolved to pay a cash dividend of ¥125 ($1.25) per 5 shares of common stock to holders of record as of March 31, 2008 (aggregate amount of ¥3,584 million ($35,894 thousand)).

The Companies adopted FIN 48 effective April 1, 2007. As a result of implementation of FIN 48, the Companies recognized a tax benefit of ¥181 million ($1,813 thousand) as of April 1, 2007, and did not require a cumulative-effect adjustment to retained earnings.

A reconciliation of beginning and ending amount of unrecognized tax benefits was as follows:

	Millions of Yen	Thousands of U.S. Dollars
Balance at beginning of year	¥ 181	$ 1,813
Additions based on tax positions related to the current year	332	3,325
Additions for tax positions of prior years	29	290
Reductions for tax positions of prior years	(122)	(1,222)
Balance at end of year	¥ 420	$ 4,206

Total amount of unrecognized tax benefits that, if recognized, would affect the effective tax rate is ¥420 million ($4,206 thousand).

The Companies recognize interest and penalties accrued related to unrecognized tax benefits in income taxes in the consolidated statements of income. Total amounts of interest and penalties recognized in the consolidated statements of income for the year ended March 31, 2008 were not material.

The Companies file income tax returns in Japan and various foreign tax jurisdictions. With few exceptions, the Companies are no longer subject to regular income tax examinations by the tax authority for years before 2007. The tax authorities are currently conducting transfer pricing examinations of certain subsidiaries in Japan and the United States.

The Companies also sell supplies, materials and products to certain affiliates. Aggregate sales to affiliates were ¥803 million ($8,042 thousand), ¥1,042 million, and ¥1,494 million in fiscal years ended March 31, 2008, 2007 and 2006. The accounts receivable from affiliates were ¥60 million ($601 thousand) and ¥103 million at March 31, 2008 and 2007, respectively.

The computation of earnings per American Depositary Receipt ("ADR"), each ADR representing 5 shares of common stock, is based on the weighted average number of common shares outstanding. The weighted average number of common shares outstanding used in the computations was 141,304,256 shares for 2008, 142,910,187 shares for 2007 and 143,933,607 shares for 2006.

exposure to foreign currency fluctuation on the transactions denominated in foreign currencies. At March 31, 2008, the notional amount of its open forward currency contract was for the purchase of $18,800 thousand U.S. dollars. The Company recorded the changes in the fair value of the derivative contract of ¥35 million ($351 thousand) in other expense since it was not designated as a hedge in the year ended March 31, 2008. No derivative contract was outstanding as of March 31, 2007 and 2006.

Concentration of Credit Risk – The Companies' business consists primarily of sales of women's intimate apparel to a large number of diverse customers in the Japanese retail industry, which include well established department stores, general merchandise stores and other general retailers and to specialty stores. No single customer constitutes 10.0% or more of the total sales, although the general retail customers that are consolidated companies in the Aeon Group collectively accounted for approximately 11.2%, 10.1% and 10.1% of the total sales in fiscal years ended March 31, 2008, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

MANAGEMENT'S REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

The management of Wacoal Holdings Corp. is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting as defined in Rule 13a-15(f) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed by, or under the supervision of, the company's principal executive and principal financial officers and effected by the company's board of directors, management and other personnel, to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and includes those policies and procedures that:

- pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company;
- provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and
- provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Wacoal Holdings Corp.'s management assessed the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting as of March 31, 2008. In making this assessment, management used the criteria set forth by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission in Internal Control – Integrated Framework (the COSO criteria).

Based on its assessment, management concluded that, as of March 31, 2008, Wacoal Holdings Corp.'s internal control over financial reporting was effective based on the COSO criteria.

Management excluded Peach John from its assessment of internal controls over financial reporting as of March 31, 2008. We acquired a 100% ownership interest in Peach John on January 10, 2008 and held a 49% ownership interest prior to that, which was initially acquired on June 2, 2006. Peach John's total assets and net assets represented 3.4% and 3.0%, respectively, of our consolidated total assets and consolidated net assets as of March 31, 2008. Peach John was consolidated as of February 29, 2008, the end of its most recent fiscal year, and included in our consolidated balance sheet as of March 31, 2008. However, because Peach John's results of operations and change in financial position between January 10, 2008 and March 31, 2008 were immaterial, income from Peach John's operations for the fiscal year ended February 29, 2008 was accounted for using the equity method and included in equity in net (loss) income of affiliated companies in our statements of income.

Wacoal Holdings Corp.'s independent registered public accounting firm, Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu has issued an audit report on our assessment of internal control over financial reporting.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Wacoal Holdings Corp.
Kyoto, Japan:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Wacoal Holdings Corp. and Subsidiaries (the “Companies”) as of March 31, 2008 and 2007, and the related consolidated statements of income, comprehensive (loss) income, shareholders’ equity and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended March 31, 2008, all expressed in Japanese yen. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Companies’ management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Certain information required by Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 131, “Disclosures about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information” has not been presented in the accompanying financial statements. In our opinion, presentation of segment information concerning the Companies’ operations is required for a complete presentation of the Companies’ consolidated financial statements.

In our opinion, except for the omission of segment information, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Wacoal Holdings Corp. and Subsidiaries as of March 31, 2008 and 2007, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended March 31, 2008, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audits also comprehended the translation of the Japanese yen amounts into U.S. dollar amounts and, in our opinion, such translation has been made in conformity with the basis stated in Note 2. The translation of the financial statement amounts into U.S. dollars has been made solely for convenience of readers outside of Japan.

We have also audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), the Companies’ internal control over financial reporting as of March 31, 2008, based on the criteria established in Internal Control – Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission and our report dated June 27, 2008 expressed an unqualified opinion on the Companies’ internal control over financial reporting.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Wacoal Holdings Corp.
Kyoto, Japan:

We have audited the internal control over financial reporting of Wacoal Holdings Corp. and Subsidiaries (the “Companies”) as of March 31, 2008, based on criteria established in Internal Control - Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission. As described in Management’s Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting, management excluded Peach John Co., Ltd. (“PJ”) which was acquired on January 10, 2008, from its assessment of internal control over financial reporting. PJ’s total assets and net assets represented 3.4% and 3.0% respectively, of the consolidated balance sheet as of March 31, 2008. Accordingly, our audit did not include the internal control over financial reporting at PJ. The Companies’ management is responsible for maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting and for its assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting, included in the accompanying Management’s Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Companies’ internal control over financial reporting based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether effective internal control over financial reporting was maintained in all material respects. Our audit included obtaining an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk, and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

A company’s internal control over financial reporting is a process designed by, or under the supervision of, the company’s principal executive and principal financial officers, or persons performing similar functions, and effected by the company’s board of directors, management, and other personnel to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company’s internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company’s assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Because of the inherent limitations of internal control over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may not be prevented or detected on a timely basis. Also, projections of any evaluation of the effectiveness of the internal control over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, the Companies maintained, in all material respects, effective internal control over financial reporting as of March 31, 2008, based on the criteria established in Internal Control - Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission.

We have also audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), the consolidated financial statements as of and for the year ended March 31, 2008 of the Companies and our report dated June 27, 2008 expressed an unqualified opinion on those financial statements, except for the omission of segment information required by Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 131, “Disclosures about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information.”
