FY2019 Financial Results Summary

Masaya Wakabayashi,
Director and Vice President
With the revision of the United States’ Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP), as of this fiscal year the following rules have been applied to our consolidated financial statements.

(1) Rules concerning profit occurring from contracts with customers
We consider amounts expected to be gained through the exchange of goods or services in accordance with a contract with a customer to be revenue. With the application of these rules, the liabilities pertaining to returned products that were included in the allowance for returns and doubtful receivables for current assets until the previous year are, as of this year, now recorded as refund liabilities under current liabilities, and rights of recovery for returned products are recorded in return assets in current assets.

(2) Rules concerning perception and measurement of financial instruments
We appraise equity securities (except those accounted for under the equity method of accounting or those that result in consolidation of the investee) with a fair value, and count the fluctuation in this value in net income and losses. With the application of these rules, other income or expenses in the consolidated income statement for this year include approximately ¥5.6 billion in valuation loss on marketable securities and investments.

(3) Rules concerning statements of periodic pension cost and periodic postretirement benefit cost
Of the periodic pension cost and periodic postretirement benefit cost, we count structural elements other than service cost as other income or expenses. In order to backdate the application of these rules, we have reclassified ¥1,040 million of operating expenses as other income or expenses in the consolidated cumulative period of the same period in the previous year.

*For details, see page 17 of the appendix of the summary of consolidated financial statements.
Net sales dropped ¥1.5 billion YoY, but sales profit grew ¥700 million through the enhancing business efficiency.

Operating income decreased ¥6.6 billion, but the profit in real terms, excluding the impact of the recognition of the impairment charges, was ¥10.7 billion, exceeding the estimate.

In response to the revision to the U.S. Accounting Standards, a valuation loss on marketable securities and investments of ¥5.6 billion was posted in other income or expenses.

We plan to pay 80 yen per share, including the dividend for commemorating the 70th anniversary of the establishment of our company. <40 yen/share for interim and year-end dividends, respectively (ordinary dividend: 36 yen, special anniversary dividend: 4 yen)>

We are designing a mid/long-term strategic vision, while recognizing the 3 years from FY2020 to FY2022 as the period for achieving the following three objectives:

1. Achieve strong growth in Japan and overseas
2. Examine the potential of unprofitable businesses and brands, and promote review and structural reform of group businesses where no business will be safe from such review or structural reform
3. Enhance corporate value by improving economic and social values

We plan to announce a new 3-year medium-term management plan in mid-June, while disclosing the details of our business strategy in the next term, which is the initial year of the plan.
